As an employee in the tech sector, I strongly disagree with Microsoft's monopoly position being allowed to continue.

Over the years I've seen Microsoft's predatory practices not only wipe out companies, but reduce the number of new companies entering the market with innovative products.

Why spend the time building something new when a massive gorilla will jump on your back as soon as you're showing some signs of success. I'm a believer in the government staying out of the economy, but this is one case where we need the intervention of another powerful body to stop this.

Please don't allow Microsoft to continue on its trail of rampage!
